Museum Exhibitions

Matthew Picton: Cultural Mapping | Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art

To call Matthew Picton's sculptural works "maps" is both accurate and a misnomer. His three-dimensional aerial cartographies are each based in a particular city and feature layers of cultural references and historical text. Featured in the exhibition are a selection of works that investigate colonization and the plunder of the New World.

Paper Weight: Works in Paper by Elsa Mora | Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art

Paper Weight is Elsa Mora's latest exhibition of painstaking works made solely of paper and glue. Mora's 2D and 3D pieces presented in this exhibition are inspired by the five cognitive faculties that form the mind: consciousness, perception, thinking, judgment, and memory.

Reframing the Fragments: The Best We Could Do | Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art

In 2018 as their Common Reading, all first-year students received The Best We Could Do, an illustrated memoir about one family's journey from their war-torn home in Vietnam to a new life in California. To complement this initiative and expand on themes in the graphic novel, the JSMA presents its third annual Common Seeing, Reframing the Fragments: The Best We Could Do. The artist's pieces embody the complex sensations related to remembering and forgetting, tradition and innovation, and trying to make sense of fragments of memory and history.

Art on the Move: Greece | Lawrence Hall, LaVerne Krause Gallery

Art on the Move: Greece is a group exhibition featuring works created through the summer program, ART ON THE MOVE: Greece. The individual works represent some of the prompted responses to historical and contemporary sites and museums as well as the activity of travel itself.
